WHY LITTLE GOOD HARBOUR

Located in the quiet fishing village of Shermans, St. Lucy on the northwest coast of Barbados Little Good Harbour offers something a little different, it is tranquil, enchanting, and conjures up a feel of the days of old Barbados.

Away from the bustling West Coast the hotel's location and history is certainly part of the appeal, a family-run property, situated in what remained of the 17th century Fort Rupert on a serene stretch of the Caribbean Sea.

The Warden family has tastefully and lovingly restored the property to create a beautiful boutique hotel offering superb suites, cottage and villa accommodation, and one of Barbados's most renowned restaurants The Fish Pot all set amongst lush, tropical gardens on the water's edge.

The setting is beachfront and tropical gardens with a choice of one and two-bedroom Garden suites, two and three-bedroom Ocean Fort suites, and three-bedroom Vineyard Suites. Luxurious, stylish, and designed to give a modern Caribbean-style in keeping with the surrounding environment and the relaxed and peaceful location on the water's edge.

Little Good Harbour is ideal holiday accommodation for couples, families and groups, a refreshing combined with friendly service and amenities of a boutique hotel mixed effortlessly with the home-from-home.

ABOUT BARBADOS

Barbados' long, white sandy beaches some seventy miles of pristine palm fringed are among the best in the world and the island is a true taste of the ultimate tropical Caribbean paradise. It is the place to be seen, draws in the celebrity crowd and attracts those who have known the island for years and return time and time again. Influenced by a blend of West African and British heritage, beyond the beaches the island's history is well documented with the historic and well-preserved international commerce, culture and built heritage area of Bridgetown the island's capital and its Garrison designated by UNESCO as a heritage site.

Barbados measures just 21 miles by 14 miles at its widest point but the island offers visitors a wealth of options and experiences. The choices are endless, whether it's taking time to relax and enjoy the beach or exploring more of Barbados and delving deeper into the heart of this special island paradise.

There is always something happening with a calendar of festivals, sporting events and celebrations throughout the year. Crop Over Summer festival and the finale Grand Kadooment Day see the streets of St Michael come alive with Masquerade Bands and colourfully revellers dancing and enjoying the finale day.

Barbados is known for its fabulous dining scene and the annual Food and Rum Fest bringing the island's finest culinary talent together with renowned Rum producers with October becoming a culinary escapade. Mixed with International cricket tournaments, horse racing, polo and car rallying to name a few there is a vibrant choice on offer to visitors throughout the year.

Combine a stay with a choice of land and sea based activities such as with sailing, surfing, scuba diving, nature-based tours, hiking, or a round of golf with friends, Barbados offers something for all visitors to the island. Barbados has a big reputation and is a popular choice for travellers, it may be small but there is so much to do, see and experience the possibilities are endless.
