Why Jamaica Inn?

- Jamaica Inn has been one of the best loved hotels in the Caribbean since the 1950s
- A small and perfect all-suite hotel resting on 700ft of Jamaica's premier private beach which is equally as good for swimming as it is for sunbathing
- A family-owned property that has been in the same family for over 60 years
- Free from distractions (TV's, clocks and radios), each suite is designed with spacious balconies, comfortably furnished to ensure guests relax and soak up views of the turquoise Caribbean Sea
- Jamaica Inn's breakfast has been voted 'The Best Kept Secret' and is a leisurely affair. Enjoy either on the Restaurant Terrace, in the comfort of your suite's balcony/verandah or on a floating breakfast tray!
- Wonderfully attentive and friendly staff that are always on hand to make each guest feel extra special
- All suites have an outside living space with stunning views of the Caribbean Sea and the premier accommodation, Cottage 7, is one of the most gorgeous suites on the island. Plus, three 1-Bedroom Beach Bungalows are new additions, located on a private secluded cove adjacent to the Ocean Spa
- The stunningly refurbished Ocean Spa nestled on the edge of a cliff overlooking the sea – indulge in a wide range of holistic treatments which make use of the finest local ingredients

Why Jamaica?

- Jamaica's rich culture means there is always something interesting to do or see, from the Bob Marley celebrations to the Jerk Festival during the summer
- Jamaica is a world-class destination for golf, as well as many other sporting activities including land and water based sports, hiking trails, river rafting, as well as some of the more sedate pursuits such as bird watching and discovering the natural flora and fauna that Jamaica has in abundance
- Jamaicans are great entertainers and renowned artisans, so part of any itinerary must include a visit to a Rum shop, Jerk station, art gallery or a market just to enjoy their unique spirit

Personal Viewpoint

Jamaica is one of the most naturally beautiful, diverse and popular destinations in the Caribbean. Jamaica Inn allows its guests to enjoy the island's beauty from a peaceful and relaxing haven. We love the fact that you can lose yourself in the stillness that surrounds the hotel, with no reminders of the outside world and seemingly endless tranquillity.

The entire property is stylishly decorated; our favourite feature has to be the huge balconies and verandahs extending from each suite. Fully furnished, they act more like open-air living rooms and it's easy to see why they're the hotel's crowning glory.

The General Manager, Kyle and his team ensure incredibly attentive yet unobtrusive personal service.

A Day in the Life of a Guest at Jamaica Inn

Wake up to an award-winning breakfast served to you on your own spacious balcony or verandah, while watching the turquoise waters of the ocean beyond. The extensive menu is a combination of local and international delights to satisfy anyone's taste.

Head down to the beach's golden sands and enjoy a complimentary fruit punch, or a Planter's Punch, if you're feeling more adventurous. Take a quick dip in the calm, warm sea before lunch.

Lunch at Jamaica Inn is not to be missed. Enjoy the delicious menu at the Seaside Restaurant, or if you prefer, it can be brought for you to enjoy right on your sun lounger on the beach.

For a more active afternoon, how about horse riding or possibly a round of golf - this can be easily arranged and is located nearby. If you want activity at a more relaxed pace, make use of the non-motorised water sports available from the beach which includes sunfish, kayaks and snorkelling.

As the afternoon cools, indulge in the offerings of the open-air Ocean Spa and feel reality begin to melt away with the sounds of the sea lapping the shore. The difficult part will be choosing from the wide range of treatments on offer!

Afternoon Tea is served between 4pm and 5pm - a typically English tradition. This is the perfect opportunity to meet and mingle with other guests.

Before working up to your delicious evening meal, enjoy a cocktail and hors d'oeuvres on the terrace while staring at the stars. Simply sit and relax whilst being waited on hand and foot and enjoying the international gourmet cuisine with a Caribbean twist.
